

Application For New Food Vendors

Currently the Food Vendor spaces for Autumn Jubilee are filled. Many of these spaces are used by local civic organizations as fundraisers for their concerns. We always invite them back first, as well as the others that we have worked with over the years. We have, however, had individuals drop out from time to time and we are always looking for replacements for these cases. Another thing that we try not to do is have duplication of menu items.

If you would like to be considered for a food vendor space for future Autumn Jubilees please complete and return this form. Please keep in mind that if we contact you, there may be one or more of your items that are already being sold, in which case we ask you not to sell that item. We strive to make our festival one that the public and the participants look forward to returning to year after year and we appreciate your interest.
